A Road Runs Through It June 26 - October 31, 2010

Missoula, MT / April 6, 2010 / Missoula Art Museum (MAM) / MAM is proud to display six wood engravings by Missoula artist Claire Emery that capture the civic spirit of our community. The limited collector's edition of A Road Runs Through It is a special project of Wildlands CPR, a national conservation group that works to prevent off road vehicle abuse of public lands and promotes watershed restoration through road removal.

The set includes a leather-bound, numbered copy of the collection of essays A Road Runs Through It: Reviving Wild Places, signed by all 26 living contributors, and the set of six signed and numbered wood engravings by Emery. Supporters of MAM and Wildlands CPR raised the money to purchase and donate the book and prints to MAM's Permanent Collections.
